Milano e il secolo delle città Giuseppe Sala, 2018-01-25T00:00:00+01:00 L'inizio del nuovo millennio sta portando alla ribalta le grandi città del mondo come luoghi della sperimentazione del futuro del pianeta e insieme come protagoniste della competizione a livello globale: città come Los Angeles, Londra e Tokyo hanno un ruolo di guida economica e identitaria sia per se stesse sia per i Paesi che rappresentano. L'Italia è un Paese fondato sulle città e la nostra storia - dall'epoca dei comuni alle istanze autonomiste odierne - ci ricorda quanto l'attaccamento alla comunità locale sia spesso più forte del legame con lo stato centrale. Ma oggi l'avvento delle megacity impone un cambiamento di politica che ci consenta di superare la frammentarietà e riuscire a giocare con successo un ruolo di rilievo nel "secolo delle città". In questa prospettiva un'ispirazione per l'Italia può venire da Milano, ritenuta in questi anni un modello dalle più autorevoli agenzie internazionali, dalle aziende, dai turisti, dai milanesi stessi. Una città dalla storia millenaria, operosa e solidale, a cui il XXI secolo ha impresso una nuova marcia. Expo 2015 ha creato un tessuto vitale in cui Università, creatività, tecnologia, impresa e cultura hanno disegnato la Milano internazionale e contemporanea di oggi. Unica in Italia. Una città che deve ancora risolvere sfide impegnative ma che è disponibile a guidare il confronto internazionale e insieme a consegnare al Paese una serie di buone pratiche da imitare: le battaglie per la legalità, la solidarietà, la gestione virtuosa dei servizi, la sensibilità ambientale. Giuseppe Sala, sindaco di Milano e artefice del successo di Expo, racconta l'identità complessa di questa città e dimostra, anche e soprattutto a chi la guarda con diffidenza, perché oggi essa rappresenta una grande opportunità per l'Italia e per l'Europa. "Milano oggi è una città capace di farsi domande e di costruire risposte. Il coraggio io lo intendo così: guardare il mondo con ampiezza di vedute e provare a cambiarlo."

Lettere dalle città del futuro Beppe Sala, 2021-01-26T00:00:00+01:00 #CiPensoOggi. Il sindaco più popolare tra i giovani ci ispira a partecipare al cambiamento. Una scatola custodisce delle lettere speciali. Lettere dal futuro. Le hanno scritte i ragazzi del domani, e ci raccontano come si vive nelle città che verranno. Ciao! Io mi chiamo Beppe Sala e mentre scrivo queste righe sono il sindaco della città di Milano. Ultimamente mi è successa una cosa parecchio strana e bella, e vorrei raccontartela. Sì, proprio a te: lo sai tenere un segreto? Devi sapere che in comune a Milano, sulla mia scrivania, c'è una specie di macchina del tempo, anche se all'apparenza è una semplice scatola. Lì dentro conservo la mia collezione di lettere e, in mezzo a quelle spedite dai miei amici, mi è capitato di trovarne alcune scritte da ragazze e ragazzi che non ho mai visto e che abitano nel futuro. Hai capito bene, proprio nel futuro. Grazie a loro ho davvero viaggiato nel tempo, e anche per il mondo: sono stato in giro per i quartieri pedonali di Londra, mi sono lanciato in una gara in bicicletta tra le vie di Parigi e ho persino esplorato la foresta cittadina di Freetown! Tutto questo lavoro d'immaginazione mi è stato di grande aiuto per il mio incarico di sindaco. Ma te l'ho detto: è un segreto. Se ti va puoi dividerlo con me, leggendo le lettere che ho raccolto e commentato nelle pagine di questo libro. Ci troverai un sacco di cose che ti riguardano molto da vicino e che hanno a che fare con le magliette che indossi o con i posti in cui passi il tempo con gli amici e addirittura con la bontà dell'aria che respiri! Ti entusiasmeranno e ti faranno riflettere. E lettera dopo lettera, scoprirai anche tu come possiamo costruire già da oggi il mondo di domani.

Disguising Disease in Italian Political and Visual Culture Sharon Hecker, Arianna Arisi Rota, 2024-08-30 Although considered an isolated event, the Italian government's initial resistant response to COVID-19 has deep historical roots. This is the first interdisciplinary book to critically examine the ongoing phenomenon of disguising contagious disease in Italy from Unification to the present. The book explores how governments, public opinion, social entities and cultural production have avoided or sublimated contagion during cholera, typhoid, syphilis, malaria, HIV and COVID-19 to impose narratives of the nation's healthy body in Italy and its colonies. Examples range from a tuberculosis sanatorium in Capri that masked as a luxury hotel and hideaway for queer couples to an obscure but talented professor who found a new cure for syphilis; from denial of disease in governmental actions to sublimated representations in Italian art, literature and films such as Luchino Visconti's cinematic adaptation of Thomas Mann's Death in Venice to a sociological study of the need to include fragile figures based on the lessons of COVID-19. Intended for scholars, students and general readers interested in the history of medicine, political and cultural history, and Italian studies, this volume shows how contagious diseases clash with the official narrative of emerging modernized urban settings and challenge the desire for political and economic stability.

COVID-19 and Cities Miguel A. Montoya, Aleksandra Krstikj, Johannes Rehner, Daniel Lemus-Delgado, 2022-01-01 This book brings together the work of more than 25 scholars from different parts of the world who analyze the challenges posed by the new coronavirus and how it can transform the lives of the cities. Through 19 chapters organized into three sections - experiences, responses and uncertainties - the authors offer a novel perspective about the resilience of the metropolis to face the most important sanitary crisis in the twenty-first century. History shows that cities can innovate and change profoundly in a response to disasters or after suffering an intense crisis, such as a pandemic or dramatic local spread of infectious diseases. In many cases, cities evolve to better urban systems, as literature based on the resilience perspective suggests. From this perspective, this book is a unique contribution to the academic discussion offering a multidisciplinary approach to analyze the impact of COVID-19 in the cities.

Intersectional Italy Caterina Romeo, Giulia Fabbri, 2024-08-16 This book questions Italian “white innocence” and examines the specificity of Italian racial discourse through the analysis of different kinds of texts and representations. Intersectionality - a theoretical and methodological approach focusing on the multidimensional discrimination that individuals and groups experience based on their race, color, gender, and other axes of oppression - has only recently been embraced as an effective methodology in Italy, whose national identity is structured around the “chromatic norm” of whiteness. The categories of race and color have been almost absent in post-war public debate as well as in scholarly discourse. Feminist movements and theoreticians have mostly placed gender at the core of their analyses, leaving white privilege unchallenged and undertheorized. Colonial and postcolonial studies have linked present-day racism to Italian colonialism, thus shedding light on contemporary incarnations of Empire. In this volume, the authors adopt an intersectional methodology to question Italian “white innocence” and to examine the specificity of Italian racial discourse through the analysis of different kinds of texts and representations. The volume also includes two interviews with writers and intellectuals Djarah Kan and Leaticia Ouedraogo, who discuss how they articulate concepts of intersectionality, Blackness, white privilege, and structural racism in Italian contemporary culture and society. The book will be of great significance to students, researchers and scholars of Migration and Postcolonial Studies interested in gender, class, and racial identity. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Postcolonial Writing.

Unika Dalam Wacana Publik: Gegara Pan(dem)ik: Terhimpit Untuk Melejit Benny D Setianto, Buku yang sedang anda baca ini juga merupakan bukti lain betapa civitas akademika Unika SOEGIJAPRANATA tidak pernah diam dalam keterbatasan yang ada melainkan justru kepanikan akan pandemik ini telah memunculkan semangat untuk semakin peduli dan terlibat dalam wacana publik. Dalam masa kurang dari 3,5 bulan atau sekitar 110 hari, tercatat lebih dari 50 artikel telah dibuat dan dimuat dalam berbagai media massa. Artinya hampir 2-3 hari sekali selalu muncul gagasan, pendapat dan ungkapan pemikiran yang dimuat dan bisa dibaca oleh publik. Tentu saja, bukan berarti Unika SOEGIJAPRANATA mengharapkan agar pandemic tidak berlalu sehingga bisa memaksa civitas akademika untuk tetap produktif menghasilkan karya, tetapi justru ini untuk menunjukkan semangat yang diwarisi dari nama yang digunakan oleh Lembaga ini. Civitas Akademika tidak boleh amem mlempem, tetapi justru harus bergerak aktif dan produktif pada saat yang lain sedang termangu-mangu oleh perubahan-perubahan dan keterpaksaan-keterpaksaan baru. Dalam himpitan pandemik Unika SOEGIJAPRANATA tetap harus melejit, bukan untuk meraih kejumawaan, tetapi justru karena panggilan untuk berbuat lebih. Ungkapan saudara kita Muslim, Fastabiqul Khairot, berlomba-lomba dalam kebaikan, sesuai dengan semangat penebusan Yesus, karena kita sudah merasakan Kasih Yesus yang begitu besar dalam hidup ini, maka saatnya membagikan kasih kepada sesama dengan ilmu pengetahuan yang juga sudah dikaruniakan kepada kita.

The COVID-19 Catastrophe Richard Horton, 2021-01-14 This expanded, updated, and completely revised edition of The COVID-19 Catastrophe is the authoritative guide to a global health crisis that has consumed the world. Richard Horton, editor of the medical journal The Lancet, scrutinises the actions taken by governments as they sought to contain the novel coronavirus. He shows that indecision and disregard for scientific evidence has led many political leaders to preside over hundreds of thousands of needless deaths and the worst global economic crisis for three centuries. This new edition provides a systematic discussion of the pandemic's course, national responses, more transmissible mutant variants of the virus, and the launch of the world's largest ever vaccination programme. Only now are we beginning to understand the full scale of the COVID-19 crisis. We need to learn the lessons of this pandemic, and we need to learn them fast, because the next pandemic may arrive sooner than we think.

The Italian Democratic Party and New Labour Luciano M. Fasano,

Cities and Mega Risks Mohammad Aslam Khan, 2022-10-11 This book focuses on the emergence of COVID-19 and climate change as twin mega risks to cities of both developed and developing countries. The work analyses how the pandemic has transformed city functions, promoted remote working, and affected socializing, education and learning patterns, recreation, as well as shopping and entertainment. It discusses the lessons learned from these two Mega Risks, the evolution of urban patterns and functions in their wake, and provides visionary thinking for the improvement of cities from the experiences gained. The COVID-19 Pandemic and climate change are both posing serious threats to cities' future. Together, they demand changes in the ways cities' function and operate. The work presents a case for a better understanding of the twin mega risks, the magnitude of their impacts, the responses of cities in combating these issues, and planning strategies for preparing, mitigating and adapting to these and future risks. The book is designed to provide reliable resource materials for a wide audience such as planners, professional practitioners, scientists, students, teachers and researchers working in various fields including geography, environmental sciences, social sciences, policy and planning.

The Italian General Election of 2018 Luigi Ceccarini, James L. Newell, 2019-04-15 This book provides a lively and comprehensive account of the unprecedented Italian general election of 2018 and of its profound significance for Italy and beyond. The contributions in this volume cover the political, economic and international contexts in which the vote took place, and consider the main election contenders in the run-up to the election as well as the campaigns. The book further examines the election outcome, analysing the votes and discussing the impact of the election on the turnover of parliamentary personnel as well as examining the outcome from the viewpoint of government formation.

The Mission Walker Edie Littlefield Sundby, 2017-07-25 Audie Award Finalist for best inspirational book! IMAGE AWARD (Native Daughters of the Golden West) The Mission Walker is a marvelous book, a moving meditation on the relationships between courage and faith, endurance and transcendence. Randall Sullivan, Creator, The Miracle Detective, Oprah Winfrey Network (OWN) Have you ever wanted to just start walking, and never ever stop? To leave behind "WHO I AM" to find "WHO

I AM.” Walking alone, and with one lung (the other lost to cancer), Edie Littlefield Sundby became the first person in history to walk the 1,600-mile El Camino Real de las Californias mission trail through the mountain wilderness of Mexico and one of the hottest deserts on earth, and across the border to Northern California - a walk that elevated her life with meaning and purpose that transcended pain and fear - and healed her broken body. THE MISSION WALKER is a first-hand account of harrowing adventure along the old Jesuit mission trail in Baja California Mexico -- desert heat and cold, walls of cactus, sleeplessness, hunger, both physical and spiritual exhaustion, the dangers of wild creatures, and encounters with drug smugglers and weeks with no water other than what a pack mule could carry; and the tortuous agony and transcendent beauty of walking the northern half of the mission trail through California, a trek Edie made six months after losing her right lung to cancer - a journey that restored health and spirit after fighting recurrent stage 4 cancer, including 79 rounds of chemotherapy, four radical surgeries (liver, lung, colon/stomach, and throat), and dozens of radiation treatments. Edie’s story is both an adventure story and a reflection on the universal experience of confronting our own mortality. It is a story of what we will do when faced with the potential end of our life. What do we do with our time left on earth. And how much do we still really, truly want to live. The book cites more than 50 original historical sources and captures the untamed wilderness adventure experienced for centuries along the old Jesuit and Franciscan mission trail that unites California and Mexico and defines the Old West. For those who crave a spirit of adventure, who ache like Edie to know what our bodies and spirits are truly capable of, this book is a must-read. A true testament to faith, courage, and the power of hope. Editorial Reviews: Edie Sundby’s account of her amazing trek along the entirety of the 1,600-mile California Mission Trail is not only captivating and inspiring but also one heck of an outdoors adventure. Les Standiford, Author and Historian This powerful story of determination and faith will stay with you forever. Ken Budd Journalist/Author “... a gripping narrative that takes us through the author’s harrowing journeys, inward and outward.” JoBeth McDaniel Journalist/Author The Mission Walker is a marvelous book, a moving meditation on the relationships between courage and faith, endurance and transcendence. Urban Violence Andrea Pavoni, Simone Tulumello, 2023 This book brings together political economy and vital materialism to set out an original conceptualization and genealogy of urban violence--

Breathe Sadiq Khan, 2023-05-25 'A breath of fresh air' Observer 'Practical and highly readable' Financial Times 'Refreshing and galvanising' Vogue 'Rousing and thoughtful' Independent 'Passionate and authentic' GQ _ Seven ways green politics goes wrong. Seven ways to get it back on track. Fatalism. Apathy. Cynicism. Deprioritisation. Hostility. Cost. Gridlock. When green campaigners and politicians lose the debate, this is why. Hybrid Diplomacy with NGOs Raffaele Marchetti, 2021-11-09 This book explores a new way of doing diplomacy through the engagement with non-governmental organizations, here referred to as hybrid diplomacy. Today's global politics is played out most successfully by the combined actions of different actors. A specific type of partnership is that between governments (namely Ministries of Foreign Affairs) and civil society organizations. While not the only type of global partnership at work, this is particularly effective in advancing new issues and promoting the norm changes that have been discussed at length in international relations and sociological literature. The author has chosen Italy as a case study because of the country's prolonged deployment of such policy. Being a middle power, with a strong non-profit sector, and hosting the central node of catholic global network, Italy is well positioned to take advantage of this new diplomatic mode. Through presenting a new reading of the Italian contribution to international affairs, this book contributes to broadening the scholarship in foreign policy analysis and transnational activism.

The Great Reform That Never Was Alessandro Chiaramonte, Alex Wilson, 2017-12-15 In Italy, 2016 was meant to be the year of the great reform, a constitutional revision that would have concluded the never-ending transition from First to Second Republic, a long process involving several transformations in the electoral system and party system since the 1990s. It did not turn out this way. Instead, the Renzi-Boschi law for constitutional revision, which started its parliamentary procedure in April 2014 and saw its final reading in the Chamber of Deputies in April 2016, was eventually rejected by voters in a confirmative referendum held on 4 December.

Ageing with Smartphones in Urban Italy Shireen Walton, 2021-05-06 'Who am I at this (st)age? Where am I and where should I be, and how and where should I live?' These questions, which individuals ask themselves throughout their lives, are among the central themes of this book, which presents an anthropological account of the everyday experiences of age and ageing in an inner-city neighbourhood in Milan, and in places and spaces beyond. Ageing with Smartphones in Urban Italy explores ageing and digital technologies amidst a backdrop of rapid global technological innovation, including mHealth (mobile health) and smart cities, and a number of wider socio-economic and technological transformations that have brought about significant changes in how people live, work and retire, and how they communicate and care for each other. Based on 16 months of urban digital ethnographic research in Milan, the smartphone is shown to be a 'constant companion' in, of and for contemporary life. It accompanies people throughout the day and night, and through individual and collective experiences of movement, change and rupture. Smartphone practices tap into and reflect the moral anxieties of the present moment, while posing questions related to life values and purpose, identities and belonging, privacy and sociability. Through her extensive investigation, Shireen Walton argues that ageing with smartphones in this contemporary urban Italian context is about living with ambiguity, change and contradiction, as well as developing curiosities about a changing world, our changing selves, and changing relationships with and to others. Ageing with smartphones is about figuring out how best to live together, differently.

Sustainable Fashion, Migrants, Embroidery Alessandra Lopez y Royo, 2024-07-11 Sustainable Fashion, Migrants, Embroidery: Ateliers of 'Social Integration' tells of community-led 'solidarity ateliers' engaged in sewing and embroidery activities which, in the Global North and Global South, are providing a vital alternative to neoliberal and neo-colonial fashion paradigms. On encountering several ateliers solidaires/sartorie sociali during her immersive fieldwork, for which she travelled to Morocco and Southern Italy, and contrasting her findings with her knowledge of parallel and analogous initiatives in London, Alessandra Lopez y Royo suggests that despite their different outlook and approach these ateliers can be inscribed within an ever-growing economy of solidarity and sharing. With a uniquely combined focus on sustainability, fashion and migration, Lopez y Royo examines how the ateliers foreground a powerful social inclusion agenda, encouraging migrants (and refugees) to collaborate, exchange knowledge, and foster communities on a level playing field with locals. Questioning widely accepted notions of 'empowerment' and 'social integration', and drawing on her background in archaeology and material culture studies, Lopez y Royo uses micro-studies to illuminate a broader path to a more inclusive, sustainable, and socially conscious industry, presenting a fresh perspective on repurposing and upcycling. In a world grappling with the need to shift away from fast fashion's wasteful practices, this thought-provoking exploration shows how slow-growth 'solidarity ateliers' can challenge the widely accepted notions of both 'fashion' and 'social integration'.

Coronavirus vol 3 Eric Thomsen,

Local Government and the COVID-19 Pandemic Carlos Nunes Silva, 2022-05-03 The book provides a global perspective of local government response towards the COVID-19 pandemic through the analysis of a sample of countries in all continents. It examines the responses of local government, as well as the responses local government developed in articulation with other tiers of government and with civil society organizations, and explores the social, economic and policy impacts of the pandemic. The book offers an innovative contribution on the role of local government during the pandemic and discusses lessons for the future. The COVID-19 pandemic had a global impact on public health, in the well-being of citizens, in the economy, on civic life, in the provision of public services, and in the governance of cities and other human settlements, although in an uneven form across countries, cities and local communities. Cities and local governments have been acting decisively to apply the policy measures defined at national level to the specific local conditions. COVID-19 has exposed the inadequacy of the crisis response infrastructures and policies at both national and local levels in these countries as well as in many others across the world. But it also exposed much broader and deeper weaknesses that result from how societies are organized, namely the insecure life a substantial proportion of citizens have, as a result of economic and social policies followed in previous decades, which accentuated the impacts of the lockdown measures on employment, income, housing, among a myriad of other social dimensions. Besides the analysis of how governments, and local government, responded to the public health issues raised by the spread of the virus, the book deals also with the diversity of responses local governments have adopted and implemented in the countries, regions, cities and metropolitan areas. The analysis of these policy responses indicates that previously unthinkable policies can surprisingly be implemented at both national and local levels.
